Attendance of museums and galleries.

Prepared by Pastoganova A. I. G.

11/02/2019

Nowadays, the theme of attendance of museums and galleries is important. The main goal of museums and galleries is helping indigenous population not to forget their history. Moreover, visiting museums and galleries is the most popular way to get acquainted with local culture. Therefore, museums and galleries have become famous tourist sights.

The purpose of my report is to make an analysis of current situation and to give recommendations what could be done in order to increase people's attendance.

First of all, as the statistics show, there was 3,7 million of visits to Natural History museum and 3,8 million visits to Science museum in 2013 but only 1,6 million and 1,3 million of visits in 2015. It appears that introducing admission charges in 2014 has led to substantial decrease of visits. Secondly, there was growth of visits to all museums and galleries in period. Nevertheless, these growth was less than in period between 2013 and 2015. Therefore, people tend to be less interested in visiting museums and galleries.

I would like to give recommendations what could be done in order to increase people's attendance. As far as I'm concerned, broadening the variety of excursions would increase interest of indigenous population. Secondly, special events on national holidays and on other special occasions would increase popularity of museums among local people and tourists and would make people treat local culture respectively.

To conclude, as I can rate, the recommendations I have given would increase people's attendance as well as the ~~interest~~ interest in national culture and history. ~~That is the main goal to~~ That is important to save British nation.
